An intrepid young sailor is Duane Hale, 16, of San Pedro, Calif., who stops to catch his breath as he ends a 26-mile voyage to Catalina Island in the smallest boat to attempt the voyage. His skiff capsized four times on first night and three times the next day. His food, shoes and his wallet were lost. "Never again," says he.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By MARTIN SALDITCH

LEONA V. SMITH is a woman who has been gratefully welcomed into the homes of thousands of Pottstown area residents during the past 16 years.

As the borough senior visiting nurse during that period, Miss Smith has administered to the sick, regardless of race, color or creed, in the never-ending battle against disease.

"It is a great satisfaction to feel you are helping someone," she says. "When I say hello to my former patients on the street, I remember then when. That's when I feel good."

Miss Smith's admiration for the nursing profession stems from childhood, following an attack of infantile paralysis at the age of three, when she became acquainted with doctors and nurses.

After graduating from Pottstown High school in 1927, she was a clerical worker for a year, and then began her training at the Philadelphia Methodist hospital. In 1931 Miss Smith became a registered nurse, and had a private practice in Philadelphia for the next five years.

She returned to Pottstown in 1936 to succeed Mrs. Rena Kennedy, who retired as visiting nurse.

Unassisted, Miss Smith made 1500 visits to approximately 150 patients during her first year on the job.

During the past 12 months, with the addition of two full-time and one part-time workers, the visiting nurse society made 5200 visits to approximately 650 patients.

Miss Smith experienced her most trying ordeal during her early years as a visiting nurse. While administering to the wife of a 92-year-old Pottstown man, he suddenly decided he wanted to climb on the porch roof.

"I grabbed him as he got through the window," related Miss Smith. "But he got irritated, and grabbed my hair in turn. With no one around to help me, we tugged at each other for a half hour, until a neighbor arrived. I had a sore head for months."

Miss Smith says people in the community certainly have become more health-conscious during the past years.

The visiting nurses, in turn, have extended their staff and services in an effort not only to cure illness, but to prevent it.

Good health habits are taught to patients and members of their families. Babies are examined free of charge, and diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus shots are given to children once a year.

"I think the health situation in Pottstown is good," says Miss Smith, "although there are some dark spots. For instance, I think food handlers should have a yearly chest X-ray to check on tuberculosis. Too many active cases are walking the streets now."

Shifting to her personal life, Miss Smith remarked, "I don't have many outside interests. I used to bowl a lot, but I've even given that up. I collect miniature dogs, and like to play a game of canasta."

Miss Smith concluded that her favorite hobby was meeting people. "That's why I've enjoyed this job. I've made a lot of friends, even if I can't remember all their names."

WORKING behind a library desk serves as a splendid school of psychology," says white-haired, gracious Freda E. Gloss, of 125 King street.

Miss Gloss should know. As head librarian of the Pottstown Public Library for the past 22 years, she has studied her readers with the same thoroughness with which a collector catalogues a rare volume.

"Books are like pills," Miss Gloss declares. "They can help alleviate sadness and worry, and therefore make people feel much better. The satisfaction of being a librarian comes in giving the right book to the right person at the right time."

Miss Gloss has been dispensing "pills" to her "patients" at the library since June, 1930, when she was hired as an assistant immediately after graduation from Pottstown High school.

The building at 415 High street then had only been open a year, and Miss Gloss recalls.

"It was a very lovely and spacious looking site then. The beauty soon gave way to progress, in the form of many more books. Now our rooms are just bulging with volumes we don't have proper space for."

Since then the library's stock of 4000 books has pyramided to the present 24,000 volumes, and the space problem has become an acute one.

During her first seven years at the library, Miss Gloss worked under two head librarians "who taught me a lot"—Amelia Pickett and Mary E. Rutter—before assuming her present position in 1930.

Looking back on her work during the depression period, Miss Gloss notes "The library is a good barometer of economics. Our circulation zooms when people are out of work, and can't afford commercial entertainment."

In order to meet the increasing demands of its readers, the library changed its admission hours to the present schedule of 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays.

Under the impetus of the economic depression, readership reached its peak in 1935, and then diminished with the coming of World War II, when the defense effort consumed the energies of the nation.

At the present time, reports Miss Gloss, the library has 2000 readers who make 35,000 withdrawals annually.

Miss Gloss admits television has helped draw away readers, but feels its effects are wearing off now.

"When TV first came on the market, it was something new and different, and children and adults were carried away by it. Now that the excitement has worn off, people are coming back to books."

Reviewing the literary tastes of her readers during the past decades, Miss Gloss notes that non-fiction has increased tremendously in popularity, with even the youngsters showing a new interest in science books.

"I think the public is showing less interest in novels now," she says, "because the fiction writers keep using the same plots and characters again and again. It doesn't take much to guess how the story is going to come out."

Paradoxically, her schedule leaves Miss Gloss with little opportunity to do any reading of her own.

"As the old saying goes," she explained, "librarians only read when they retire."

Miss Gloss adds that's a long way off.

46 New Members Meet Congregation

Forty-six new members of the Christ Episcopal church were formally introduced to the regular membership at a reception held Wednesday night at the parish house.

"I thought the hot weather would keep people away, but we had a nice turnout of about 100 and all enjoyed themselves," said the Rev. George A. Liner, rector of the church.

Out of the 46 new members, 22 were brought in through confirmation while the remaining 24 were transfers from other churches or communities.

Highlight of the party was a skit performed by William Mills and Philip Lang who did a take-off on the Junior League follies of 1952.

The annual affair was sponsored by the church Women's club under the leadership of Mrs. James C. Wilke. Mrs. Robert Gray was in charge of the program.

Duck-Billed Platypuses Don't Love Each Other

NEW YORK, June 26. (P)—That romance between Penelope and Cecil is off—until Fall anyway.

Bronx zoo curators, acting as match-makers, have been trying for a couple of years to breed the two duck-billed platypuses—small aquatic animals from Australia.

Today they gave up, though they promised one last try in the Fall.

The past year they were at least friendly. But this year Penelope actively resented Cecil's overtures and showed her displeasure by rolling over and over in the water.

"This," confided a curator, "is one of the signs of Platypus annoyance."

COMPANY ELECTS OFFICIALS

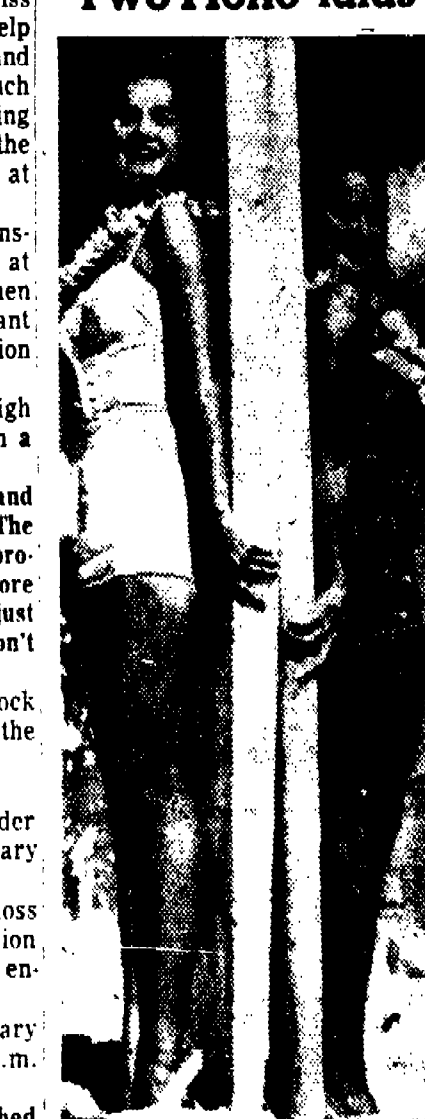

NEW YORK, June 26. (P)—Island Creek Coal Sales company directors today elected Carlton R. Mabley Jr., as vice president and general manager and appointed William C. Nelson assistant to the president, R. E. Salvati.

County Housing Authority Postpones Its Meeting

Montgomery County Housing authority's meeting scheduled for yesterday was postponed, it was announced.

An authority spokesman said members felt there was not sufficient business to transact to warrant a meeting. Unless a special meeting should be required, the authority will meet next on July 24.

Mystery Balloon

Soanne Crocker, 13, of 346 Oak street, displays the mysterious balloon which she captured at Franklin and Oak streets last night, after it drifted to earth after invading the borough from the North. Attached to the balloon was a flashlight bulb and batteries. The captured balloon was one of five sighted by members of the Pilots club at Pottstown Municipal airport.

five lights, two in pairs and one single, traveling from the North about 2000 feet in the sky.

Then, at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Joseph Lukens, of 383 North Evans street, looked up from her backyard, and saw "what looked like a balloon with a flare at the bottom, coming from the North and going East."

The same object caught the eye of Louis Fryer, of 348 Oak street, as he was sitting on his front porch back. He also was "rated an ex-trying to catch some cool breezes, excellent sprint man on the school's track team and was a member of the baseball team.

Youngest of eight children, he was the son of Anna Susko. His father, John Susko, died two years ago.

This is the second drowning of the season to occur in this area. The earlier victim was 18-year-old George Chatsky Jr., of St. Clair, who perished while swimming in the Perkiomen creek on May 28.

Neighbors theorized that the balloon had been released by a young boy who wished to determine how far the gas would carry it. In such cases, a note containing the name and address of the launcher is usually attached, but the wind might have blown it away.

From the strength of the batteries it was indicated that the balloon had been lit loose earlier in the evening.

Soanne and Suzanne intend to keep the flying balloon as a souvenir, but they're not going to let it loose again.

"We don't want to get into trouble," explained 9-year-old Suzanne.

THE GIRLS immediately raced to the corner and captured the contraption.

After inspection, it was discovered that the balloon was filled with slowly-leaking hydrogen gas, which could have carried the object from a distance of several hundred miles.

The light attachment was skillfully constructed, and continued to work until one of the children disconnected the wires from the bulb to the batteries.

being affected by the heat. He had been in failing health since he suffered a stroke on a hot day in August two years ago.

The 99 degrees registered on the weather bureau's thermometer in The Mercury office from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. broke the previous record for the day, 98 degrees in 1943.

A thermometer at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant recorded 103 degrees.

One thermometer on High street recorded 107 degrees and another 106. Some other thermometers registered a few degrees less, but none was reported as reading higher than 107.

HERE ARE temperatures recorded in other communities as the East and South wilted under the scorching heat wave.

Bamberg, N. C., 108, Morehead City, N. C., 107, Albany and Augusta, Ga., 105, Newport News, Va., 103, Richmond, Va., 102, Greensboro, N. C., 101, and innumerable cities had temperatures of 100 or a few degrees under that reading.

The weather man offers only a faint hope of relief today. His forecast reads "partly cloudy and somewhat cooler preceded by scattered thunderstorms in extreme south portion." Saturday, he adds, will include some cloudiness and be moderately warm.

Wiping his brow clear of the perspiration that linked all Pottstonians yesterday in the fight against the heat, Borough Manager Dow I. Sears said the sprinkling ban "has not been officially discontinued. We hope everyone will continue to co-operate with us as wonderfully as they have."

He added, "We'll have to wait to see what kind of weather is in store for us the next day or two. There's supposed to be some rain. If there is that will help us a lot."

To date, he said, the consumption of water in the borough has been "very good, with everybody getting a fair share."

Today will be the last day that pupils attending the daily vacation Bible school of the New Hanover Lutheran church will file out to the church grounds for flag raising exercises. After two weeks of classes the school will officially come to an end with closing exercises for the 82 children at 7:30 p. m. in the parish house. Awards to the pupils will be made for perfect attendance at the exercises, the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, pastor of the church and director of the school announced. Today will also be the last day of classes at nearly all of the Bible schools in Pottstown.

corporation quit the plant during the day. Nine workers in the heat treatment department (which registered 120 degrees at 1:45 p. m.) went home at noon, along with 70 other employees, and 50 more men walked out after 1 o'clock, when the boiler-room temperature was 104 degrees.

J. E. Stauffer, general superintendent of the DoeHLer-Jarvis corporation, reported that approximately 100 men left the plant during the day.

"We don't know what the temperature is here," he said, "and we don't want to know. If we put up a thermometer, everyone would go home."

Only two of the 28 men on the 3:30 p. m. shift at Neapco Products, incorporated, reported for work yesterday afternoon. Frank Nimmerichter sweated it out for an hour, then left. Working alone was Russell Drumheller.

Twelve workers at the Jacob Aircraft company left the plant at noon, while 40 girls at the E. V. Hunter corporation gave up their sewing for the day.

Employees at Melbrooke Textiles, incorporated, stayed on the job, comforted by the knowledge that the plant will close for the annual two-week vacation period, beginning tonight.

SEARS ESTIMATED cost of the tank for this plan at from $100,000 to $150,000 and cost of additional mains at $75,000. He said this plan might prove the best for the future.

A THIRD and the most temporary plan, explained by the borough manager, would include feeder mains from the Washington hill reservoir to the Evans street station. This change would cost an estimated $20,000 to $25,000.

A Emory Lord chairman of the water committee, answered Sears' proposal for water meters. "Dow, I agree with you 100 percent on meters. I think everybody agrees on meters. But if we put in meters, I say we got to put them all in at once or within a reasonable length of time."

Ralph I. Thomas, borough auditor, pointed out meters cannot be obtained in large quantities. He cited West Chester as an example. He said borough authorities there ordered 500 meters a year several years ago and this past year failed to get their quota.

Lord declared, "I believe in metering block-by-block. If we're going to do this thing we've got to do it fairly."

Paul I. Romig added with a shake of the head, "We've got to meter old homes and new homes alike. We can't show partiality."

THOMAS SUGGESTED a certain date be set for metering all new homes. He pointed to Roversford as an example of this practice.

Lord said, "Ralph, I disagree. The people in the old homes of the borough have every right to be metered at the same time you meter new home owners."

Thomas explained, "New home owners use more water, because of their lawns."

Lord answered, "You're not going to stop them from watering their lawns by metering. A man isn't going to sacrifice his lawn for a few dollars a year."

Sears said, "I agree plenty of old homes owners use water on their lawns too. But if we're going to meter we've got to start some where. And there just aren't many meters available."

THOMAS SAID, "We use to use standard type meters and we should stick with those because of maintenance problems. If we get a half dozen different makes of meters then we'll have to carry parts for that many meters."

He added, "Bovertown put in meters and found they didn't work out."

Sears declared, "We may find with meters our rates aren't right if that's the case we'd have to have a rate survey made."

Thomas insisted the biggest problem would be legal aspects of a bond issue which would be necessary for any extensive work on the water system.

Lord disagreed, "I think the big problem is finding out what we have to do to correct the situa-

New Mexico Democrats Choose 24 Delegates

ALBUQUERQUE, June 26 (P)—New Mexico Democrats today picked 24 delegates with 12 votes in the National convention. Supporters of Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma promptly claimed at least eight votes on the first ballot.

The surprising strength for Kerr was a blow to supporters of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

The Tennessean was the only presidential contender with an active organization in the State. His backers had decided before the convention got under way, however, not to ask for an endorsement for Kefauver.

ALLIED INDUSTRY FEELS IMPACT OF LONG STRIKE

Steel Using Companies Forced to Make Jobless Additional Quarter Million

PITTSBURGH, June 26 (AP)—More than a quarter-million workers in steel-using industries are temporarily jobless today in the 25-day-old strike of 650,000 CIO United steelworkers.

More lay-offs in allied industry threaten. Relatively large steel supplies still on hand, however, in plants of steel consumers, are likely to keep the total from skyrocketing for about two weeks.

In the 1949 nationwide steel strike, a half million workers were forced into idleness for lack of steel by the time the 42-day work stoppage ended. The current figure is around 230,370, counting those laid off and workers ordered laid off in coming days.

With no one in Government, industry or labor making any publicized effort to end the walk-out, the steel strike is costing USW members an estimated 49 million dollars a week in total pay losses.

THE NATION is losing 1,839,000 tons of steel production each week of the walkout. Mills which are working under new contracts or mills which don't deal with the USW are producing about 252,000 tons of steel each week. Before the strike, the steel industry was working at full capacity and making 2,080,000 tons of steel each week. This week the industry is operating at 12 percent of capacity.

The American Iron and Steel Institute, an industry organization, says about 9,100,000 tons of steel have been lost as a result of the great steel controversy.

The latest layoffs in allied industries were reported in Toledo, Ohio. Aklia Stamping told 550 workers to stay home for the duration. Spicer Manufacturing and Dana corporation gave furlough notices to 2,500, and railroads laid off another 500. The big Willys-Overland plant, employing 12,000, expects to close tomorrow or Saturday.

In Maryland, the state employment service says 3000 Maryland workers in allied industries are getting jobless insurance as a result of the steel strike. A jump to 10,000 is expected next week. The 27,000 USW members in Maryland who are on strike are not entitled to unemployment compensation.

DENVER AREA steelworkers don't like reports they hear that President Truman is considering invoking the Taft-Hartley Act to end their strike. More than 1500 employees of the Colorado Fuel and Iron corporation, a U. S. Steel corporation subsidiary, voted at a Denver mass meeting "not to make steel under the Taft-Hartley law."

The law requires them to call off their strike for 80 days if Truman invokes the act and obtains a court injunction for such a delay.

The automobile manufacturing industry, which already counts its strike-idled employees in the thousands, expects harder blows next week.

Automotive News, a trade paper in Detroit, said the steel crisis will take "its first big bite out of final assembly operations" in a few days.

Seeks Little Break, Gets Big One

At the urging of President Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, Dominican artist Jose Vela Zanetti hopefully submitted sketches in an effort to win a United States art student fellowship. Instead, he won one of the most coveted art commissions in the world today—painting of a 60-foot mural for the United Nations in New York. Zanetti showed his gratitude by declaring he would refuse to accept payment for the job.

Truckers Lose Fight In Supreme Court

HARRISBURG, June 26 (AP)—Trucking interests seeking a loophole in Pennsylvania's 45,000-pound weight ceiling have lost a fight in the State Supreme court.

The high tribunal upheld the Dauphin county court in a decision at Philadelphia this week throwing out an appeal by the Dillner Transfer company, Pittsburgh.

The Dillner firm raised the question that although one law fixed a limit of 45,000 pounds, another law could be construed to allow a maximum weight of 56,000 pounds.

Justice John C. Bell Jr. said in an opinion: "(Dillner's) ingenious argument flies in the teeth of the well known and often expressed intent of the purposes in 1951, more than five-legislation . . . where these two million dollars more than '50.

vehicles (a truck tractor and semi-trailer) are used in combination, their gross weight shall not exceed 45,000 pounds.

"The Legislature believes that any additional combined weight would seriously damage or ruin the highways and bridges of this Commonwealth."

House Flares Over Public Housing, Kicks Appropriations Bill Back to Conference

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The recommittal of the big appropriations bill was voted on money bill which is the biggest of the year. The House today cleared the first of the last through the complex legislative process.

But the House in a flare over public housing refused tonight to accept a Senate House compromise on a six billion dollar appropriation bill and sent it back to conference with the Senate.

By a rollcall vote of 195 to 181, the House ordered its conferees to insist that no more than 5000 public housing units be started in 1953.

The compromise version of the bill accepted the Senate figure boosting the number of the housing starts to 45,000—nine times the House figure.

THE HOUSE action stemmed from early action on a bill appropriating the Senate Appropriations Committee nearly six and a quarter billion dollars to the executive branch. The office and independent agencies of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953.

1 The House limitation on public housing of 5000 units during the coming year.

2. Inclusion of an additional $27,000,000—cut out by the Senate—to construct five additional veterans hospitals. Two of them would be in California, two in Ohio, and one in the District of Columbia.

Three of the 11 major appropriations bills which will finance the Government in the new fiscal year starting July 1 moved a step nearer final enactment. They were:

1 The Defense department budget trimmed to $45,734,750,912 by early action on a bill appropriating the Senate Appropriations Committee nearly six and a quarter billion dollars to the executive branch. The office and independent agencies of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953.

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—The Central's directors announced today that the railroad will succeed in its effort to get the House to pass a bill to build a new railroad from New York to Washington, D. C. groups of hunters. One group was composed of children below the age of nine and the other of children over nine.

THE TEAMS gathered white slips of paper on the grounds with numbers written on them. The numbers, representing points, were added together to determine the winners on a point basis. Forty-four children played the game.

Winning in the age group under 9 years were Donna Hurter, Marcia Hewitt, Francis Shaner, Tony Katanaro and Dick Hurter.

The boys were victors over the girls in the older group with a team composed of Joseph Wolf, Terry Sas, Lenny Reinert, Neal Hewitt, John Meade, Bill, Jim and Garry Meade and Philip Xanthopoulos.

The Lincoln playground held a scavenger hunt for the 18 boys and girls who participated in the activity. Children gathered objects of nature which the playground leaders assigned and the quicker the more points the team piled up.

In the team of children from the ages of 4 to 9 in the winners were Jackie Diener, Diane Landis, Carol Ann Landis and Kay Wack.

Donald Bleam, Stanley Hallman, George Millard, Duke Embold, Andrea Levan, Cubit Ricketts and Joyce Hinde.

Of the 44 children who participated in the hunt, the winning team was composed of Philip Solter, Virginia Bailey, David Czarick, Reginald Casselberry, Ronnie Turpak and Jimmy Anzulewicz.

The Tol Lot divided its teams into two groups—one for ages 7 and under and the other for the 8 to 12-year-olds. Sixty children took part in the hunt.

The winning group for the younger of the two groups was made up of Georgianne Takack, Sandra March, John Fry, Butch Manthorne and Billy Renninger.

The younger group had to find pictures of animals scattered about the lot to win the prize.

Winning prizes in the older of the two groups were Harry Nester, Ronald Drumbheller, William Fry, Butch Kneller, Jacqueline Oxenford and Sandra March.

The older team had to follow a map to find the treasure.

ations, for they are doomed to failure."

Wagner advised his audience to prepare for the Second Coming of Christ "not by holding on to the things of this old world which will pass away, but by aiming for those things which will be ever lasting. Jesus is going to prepare an eternal home for those who are faithful."

THE 350 CAMP members who attended the opening service were welcomed by Elder William R. Robinson, Sabbath school and home missionary secretary.

Elder Robinson outlined the daily schedule of the conference, which is as follows: 6:30 a. m., devotion; 7:30 a. m., breakfast; 9 a. m., family and personal devotional service; 10 a. m., departmental hour; 11:30 a. m., preaching service; 12:30 p. m., lunch; 2 p. m., prayer band; 3:30 p. m., lectures on health and diets; 5:30 p. m., supper; 8 p. m., evangelistic service; 10 p. m., retirement.

While the opening service was being conducted, an estimated 1200 Adventists were moving bedding, clothing, and furniture into 185 family-size tents, 10 cottages and dormitories, in preparation for the annual camp meeting.

Elder Wagner predicted a camp population of 400 over the first weekend.

"The response has been beyond our expectations," he stated, "though the hot weather has handicapped us, like it did Ray Robin on the other night. Our men have not been able to work at the peak of efficiency in getting the camp ready, but everything will be in shape for the weekend."

TODAY'S PROGRAM will be highlighted by the biannual election of conference officers, and the reading of reports by leaders and committees.

The business sessions will take place throughout the morning and afternoon in the "big top" tent. At evening will be 400 delegates representing churches in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the District of Columbia.

The principal speaker at the evangelistic service at 8 p. m. will be Elder Monroe A. Burgess, of Philadelphia.

Others who will address conference members during coming sessions are C. Dunbar Henri missionary to Liberia, on furlough; Louis B. Reynolds, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of the international magazine The Message; and Calvin E. Moseley, assistant secretary of the colored department for North America, who has recently returned from West Africa.

Bible Pageant To Be Enacted At St. James

Children of the St. James Lutheran church vacation Bible school will participate in a pageant today, where the results of their learning will be exhibited to parents and friends.

A huge Bible, five feet high and three and one-half feet wide, covered with black velvet and hand-lettered in gold, will be the feature exhibit.

The 35 youngsters in the junior class who made this Bible will each step through the front of it to show enlarged pages of the Scriptures, also made by them in the course of their study at the school. Oil paintings by young artists of the group will also be exhibited.

The primary class will show imitation stained glass church windows which were made from shortening, crayons and the application of a hot iron.

THE YOUNGEST group, the beginners, will show their own illustrations of the Ten Commandments.

The teachers and assistants who have assumed instruction of the children at the Bible school are Mrs. Edwin L. Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Buchert, Mrs. Hanley Oliver, Mrs. Arthur Milligan Jr., Mrs. Joseph Daniels, Mrs. Gordon Strunk, Mrs. Gordon Lamore, Mrs. Ralph Maack, Robert Weller Jr., David Oliver, Thomas Yocum, Joanne Hoover, Janet Rhoads, Carol Ann Hartwig, Joan Smith and Edith Dorang.

facilities and then decided it was ready for traffic."

THE SINGLE qualification in opening the airport is that traffic shall be limited to dry weather.

W. E. "BERT" WELLS, co-operator of the field for the borough, explained, "They don't want us to use the field in wet weather because of the new sod. We have, however, a good drainage system here, and it doesn't take long after a rain for the field to dry."

The airport was closed on Sept. 6, 1950, when the Wenger Brothers construction company, Lancaster, began work on the airport runway.

The main runway on the field is a 2800-foot long, 300-foot wide span and is officially recognized by the CAA.

THE AIRPORT includes two other runways. One extends for 2600 feet and the other for 2200 feet. Both are approximately 150 feet wide.

Since the airport was closed it has been listed in the Airmen's guide, a bi-monthly publication sponsored by the CAA, as "Pottstown Municipal airport, closed for construction."

In the next issue of the guide it will be listed as a C-1 airport capable of performing major overhaul jobs, capable of providing lights by request for night landing, with gasoline and complete air taxi service available.

The listing of the airport will include a note on use of the facilities only in dry weather.

Preliminary excavation for a new concrete block hangar has been made. The new hangar will handle six planes and will increase airport hangar capacity to 14 planes. Future plans call for a second six-plane hangar.

The new hangar will include a concrete floor and an aluminum roof.

The Federal government and the PAC are helping the borough finance the rebuilding of the airport. Their share of the operation will total from 39 to 79 percent.

"Boy, am I thirsty!" exclaimed Mademoiselle Uline between pants yesterday afternoon as she propped herself in a booth in a drug store at Oak and Charlotte streets opposite her mistress, Mrs. Norman E. Stetler Jr., Wilson and Logan streets, and eagerly lapped up a vanilla ice cream soda in an effort to beat the heat. Though the ice cream was a lifesaver for Uline on a day not fit even for her, it is not only on those days Mrs. Stetler treats her to the delicacy. Mrs. Stetler often feeds Uline ice cream when they go for a stroll. The poodle, born in France, accompanied her mistress when Mrs. Stetler, a native Parisian, married and came to this country. The poodle's appetite for ice cream probably stems from the fact that Frenchmen have relished it for hundreds of years. Mrs. Stetler breeds poodles. She has four besides Uline. Her husband is a former employee of The Mercury's advertising department.

of hot air and heat waves that set the perspiration flowing.

W. E. "BERT" WELLS, Park wford, a partner in the Basco Flying service at the Pottstown Municipal airport, claimed he had a wonderful way to elude uncomfortable weather temporarily.

He fills an airplane tank with gas and flies around for an hour at 10,000 feet where the temperature is about 20 degrees lower than that on the ground. The cost of an hour's supply of gas is approximately $1.40.

SGT. THOMAS A. LAWLER, of the borough police department, has a face as bright as the sun most of yesterday. "I don't know," he said, "but I have a typical answer for a reporter's query about how to beat the heat. I don't know."

Carroll "Mush" Bechtel took a long glance at a thermometer in the cool of the east wall of Dietrich's Drug store, High and Hanover streets, yesterday afternoon. "What is it?" asked a passerby. Bechtel turned around and smiled: "Only 107 degrees. That's nothing to what it'd get when we, as kids, put matches under it. Remember?"

COLD CASH. That's what they say of money. Maybe that cold cash made the Security Trust company lobby cooler by 20 degrees than High and Hanover's egg-frying heat. George M. Longaker, vice president, was asked about it. "Air conditioning," he answered. "We pipe it right in from the North Pole." Longaker was joking, but the high ceiling cooled off the bank.

SARTORIAL strictness among office-working men, which has taken it on the chin all week, started to go down for the count yesterday in Pottstown.

In most offices, ties were discarded, shirt collars were wide open, and in many cases the white collar had been replaced by sports shirts.

At least one businessman went so far as to do what hundreds of others were thinking about—get out of the clammy trousers and into shorts.

Thomas A. McCaslin 3d, general manager of J. Fegely and Son company, broke the ice, so to speak, with a pair of blue and white striped seersucker shorts.

"Oh, my gosh, yes!" was his answer to the question of whether the shorts-wear really made a difference.

MCCASLIN SAID he'd been

NORDBY GOES thirsty on a hot day in the 700 block on French street. Mrs. Richard Ricketts makes about eight gallons of iced tea everyday for the neighbors. family and the Elk and Legion baseball teams her sons, Dave and Dick, play on. "I use about five pounds of sugar every day," Mrs. Ricketts says. "It gets mighty expensive sometimes but I enjoy it. Everybody expects it, too." The Ricketts are heat conscious and on Wednesday night they slept on cots on their back lawn.

Parking spots for cars were hard to find at Six Penny lake, French Creek State park yesterday as droves of local residents flocked down to escape the heat and to soak themselves in the lake's cool waters. The water was so cold, some said, that the hot sun actually felt good after a dip.

WHEN LIFEGUARDS start swimming for their own pleasure then it must really be hot. Leonard Bernhardt Jr., lifeguard at the YMCA swimming pool admitted that yesterday's heat drove him to keep his vigil in the pool's waters instead of out on the little bench at the edge of the pool. He also said that many new faces were there to soak up the cooling benefits.

COOKING MEALS in hot weather may be a real chore, but restaurant owners say that business is slower on hot days because the ladies would rather prepare meals at home than get dressed to eat out. Restaurant men must also study weather reports as closely as aviators since their menus must be prepared in anticipation of mercury readings. Typical bill of fare for yesterday's sizzling heat would include plenty of cold cuts, salads and iced drinks.

MR. AND MRS. Bruce A. Davies, St. Peter's road, Chestnut Hill, Chester county, tried to beat the heat by driving to the seashore on their Wednesday afternoon off. Both are Pottstown business persons. They found the seashore undergoing one of its worst heat waves in history. They couldn't sleep because of 97-degree temperature, were plagued by a hot land breeze. So they gave up at 2 a. m., checked out of their hotel, and drove back to Pottstown to get some relief.

Fine Gives Up Meeting Because of Texas Polio

HARRISBURG, June 26 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine today gave up a trip to the Governor's conference at President from sending an ambassador to the Vatican without Senate approval was eliminated from an appropriation bill by the Senate today.

The provision had been put into the bill by the House.

No objection was voiced to the Senate move, and there was no debate before the vote was taken. Elimination of the provision had been recommended by the Senate Appropriations committee when it reported out a bill appropriating more than one billion dollars for the State, Commerce and Justice departments. The money is for the

But the move will give Fine, chairman of Pennsylvania's 70-member delegation to the Republican National convention, more time to poll the members on their choice for president.

Asked whether he may announce his own decision before departing for Chicago next Wednesday, Fine said:

"I wouldn't count on that. After I make up my mind, I will want to talk to several people. I doubt that they will be available here and I probably won't have a chance to see them until I get to Chicago."

Vatican Provision Is Eliminated Political Opportunists Rapped by Labor

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—A fiscal year starting July 1. The question of an ambassador to the Vatican was hotly debated the past year after President Truman announced he was appointing Gen. Mark Clark to represent this Government in the Papal state.

PROTESTANT CHURCHMEN protested vigorously, saying the action was not in keeping with the traditional U.S. policy of separating church and State.

When the Senate did not act on Clark's appointment before adjourning at the end of last session, Clark asked that his name be withdrawn. Subsequently he became Allied supreme commander in Tokyo.

The Vatican provision was written into the House bill in a move to prevent Truman from sending an envoy to the Vatican at any time when Congress was in recess. Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), floor manager of the bill, said the rider had been stricken from the bill by instrument for the pursuance of the Senate Appropriations committee because it felt a religious issue should not be injected into the measure.

An expected fight over the committee's proposal to forbid the State department to use any of its funds for U.S. participation in the International Materials conference (IMC), an international rationing dependence of the trade union group, fizzled out and the ban received a tentative approval.

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 26 (AP)—The International Labor conference in a resolution today condemned attempts "to transform the trade union movement into an instrument for the pursuance of political aims."

The delegations of Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia joined with groups from the Western world in abstaining on the vote. The resolution was carried 112 to 0 with 37 abstentions.

The resolution urged Governments to recognize that the value of a trade union "rests to a large extent on the freedom and independence of the trade union movement as an essential factor in promoting social advancement."

SOCIAL SECURITY Young British Misfit BILL IS PASSED Faces Spy Charges BY SENATE VOTE

Measure Would Raise Old Age and Survivors Insurance Benefits.

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The Senate passed tonight and sent to conference with the House a bill to raise old age and survivors' insurance benefits by an estimated 300 million dollars a year.

Before doing so, it attached to the measure which the House had passed earlier a provision to add some 240 million dollars a year to the amount which the Federal government pays to the states for direct assistance to the needy aged, dependent children, the blind and the disabled.

These are persons who were never covered by the Social Security insurance system or whose payments from it are so small that they need additional money. This program is handled by the states, in contrast to the old age and survivors insurance fund, paid for by a tax on payrolls and administered by the Federal government.

As it had passed the House, the measure was concerned only with the latter program. It would hike payments to the four and one-half million persons now on the Social Security insurance rolls by an average of about $6 a month. The increase would be $5 a month or 12 1/2 percent, whichever is greater.

PAYMENTS FOR those retiring in the future also would be raised by revision of the benefit formulas. Thus the maximum paid to a family in the future would be $168.90 a month instead of $150.

The amendment to increase the Federal share of direct relief payments was sponsored by Democratic Leader McFarland of Arizona and 22 of his colleagues. It was adopted by voice vote. Final passage also came on voice vote.

The McFarland amendment would boost the Federal share of old age assistance grants by $5 a month. The same increase would be made in payments to the blind and the totally disabled. A $3 hike would be made in the dependent children grants.

States would be required to pass these along to the recipients. McFarland expressed hope the states would match the Federal increases.

The average old age assistance grant in the nation now is $44.77 a month. McFarland declared this was far below the amount which a needy person must have for a decent standard of living.

There now are about 2,685,000 persons getting the old age assistance payments.

The amendment would provide increases by revising the formula under which the Federal Government now contributes to the program.

For instance, on old age grants, Washington now pays $15 of the first $20 and half of the next $30 per month. Under McFarland's proposal, the Federal share would be $20 of the first $25 and then half of the next $50.

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—William Marshall, young Foreign Office June 13, and that before Kuznetsov's claim to diplomatic immunity self as a disgruntled "misfit" in had been established Scotland Yard the Moscow Embassy, was committed to trial at Old Bailey that he had in his pockets at the on charges of communicating of time 25 one-pound notes ($70). Kuznetsov is still at liberty in London.

The 24-year-old Marshall was denied freedom on bail pending the trial which is expected to take place in four or five days.

Old Bailey is the central criminal court of the London district which in March, 1950, imposed a 14-year sentence on atomic scientist Klaus Fuchs for betraying American and British atomic bomb secrets to Russia.

Marshall was committed to trial by Magistrate Clyde T. Wilson after a hearing, partly in secret, at which prosecutors produced a statement by Marshall that he had associated with and found much in common with Pavel Kuznetsov, second secretary of the Russian Embassy here.

IT WAS DISCLOSED for the first time that Kuznetsov was arrested with Marshall at King George's, in the Russian way of life.

Use of DDT Gives New Outlook for Arabian Refugees

By WILTON WYNN
AP News Staff Writer
BEIRUT, June 26.—A crusty old desert beldoge is tested when some United Nations people taking care of Arab refugees spotted him with DDT powder.
But he is not the next day all smiles. He had held his post for years in his life. He had been asked by the United Nations officials to let them see what he had to say about the health situation of the 800,000 refugees who live mostly in tents in the Arab countries surrounding Israel. The refugees lived in Israel until forced out by the 1948 fighting between Jews and Arabs.
After the first experiment, a plan was in greater demand than food. It helped control relapsing fever in Jordan — which now harbors about half of the refugees.
WORK AMONG the refugees has given U.N. health officials an opportunity to experiment in eradicating endemic disease. These prior projects may produce a lasting improvement in the health of the Arab world.
On such widespread diseases as typhus, malaria, and relapsing fever, the medical service of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) has made significant studies in developing areas and preventive measures to the area.
When and if these refugees return to normal life, they will carry with them a vastly increased knowledge of the methods and possibilities of modern medicine, in the view of Dr.

Arab refugee children are vaccinated by U. N. aid.

Jerome S. Peterson, Chief Medical Officer of UNRWA.
The economy and efficiency of workers reduced malaria among refugees in Syria from 11.1 percent to 3 percent. Malaria has been reduced effectively even in such no-foggy malaria holds great promise for the Near East. At a cost of just $1.40 and the northern coastal strip over eight cents per person, UNRWA's Lebanon.

Soviet Fails in Effort To Ratify Old Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 26 (AP) — Russia failed today in an effort to have the Security Council appeal to the United States and other countries to ratify the 1925 Geneva Protocol prohibiting bacteriological weapons.
Only Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik voted for the proposal. The other ten delegates abstained. Seven affirmative votes were required for approval.
Malik declared the ten abstentions were the same as negative votes.
"This day," he said, "will enter into history as a day on which the American - British block in the Security Council placed on the books one more page as to how the United States opposes the cause of peace and security."
Ernest A. Gross, U. S. delegate, replied that the ten votes had been cast as a measure of "scorn and repudiation" which all members of the council except Russia "feel for the futile and vain trick which the Soviet government attempted to perpetrate on the Council."

Marital Law Boss, Five Others Resign South Korean Posts

PUSAN, Friday, June 27.—South Korea's marital law boss and five of his high subordinates resigned Thursday for failing to detect in advance the attempt on President Syngman Rhee's life Wednesday.
Almost at the same time, a government spokesman announced that a political foe of Rhee in the National assembly had admitted supplying the pistol used by the would-be assassin.
Maj. Gen. Won Yong Duk, whom Rhee had appointed to enforce marital law in Pusan, quit along with the head of the National police, the chief of Rhee's personal bodyguard, and three other of Won's subordinates.

Government spokesman Chae Rhee said the resignations were voluntary but there were reports that Rhee had asked the men to surrender their posts.
Rhee and his political opponents have been hotly disputing Rhee's plan to take the election of South Korea's president out of the hands of the Assembly and give it to the people. He also favors a two-house legislature, instead of the present unicameral assembly.
Rhee also announced that Assemblyman Kim Si-hyon had confessed he supplied the pistol that 62-year-old President Rhee used when he tried to kill Rhee during ceremonies marking the second anniversary of the Korean War.
The pistol, owned and Rhee was passed upon, and arrested. He is still being questioned.
Assemblyman Kim and another member of the National assembly, No Ki Yung, were arrested after the attempt on Rhee's life. Both were members of the Democratic Nationalist party. Rhee's strongest political opposition.
India's ancient Code of Manu forbade use of barbed or poison arrows or killing a foe who had thrown down his arms.

Budget Authorized For Atomic Weapons

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The House Appropriations committee today approved a supplemental budget of $145,000,000 to finance a program aimed at building a complete family of atomic weapons for all three of the armed services.
The sum was less than half the amount asked by President Truman and the Atomic Energy commission (AEC) for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Truman asked $3,018,602,000.
The committee said, however, that AEC may come back in September or January to request more money when it has firmer estimates to back up its request for funds for the expansion program.
The committee recommended $5 million dollars in supplemental funds for the AEC's operating expenses. This was a cut of $157,238,000 from the $172,398,000 sought by the President.

TEHRAN, Iran, June 26.—The Iranian government admitted today that it had not been able to sell any oil abroad since it nationalized the country's oil fields in 1951.

this situation "sabotage" by the British-controlled company. It said one example was the seizure of the tanker Rose Mary at the British colonial port of Aden. The Rose Mary was carrying 800 tons of Iranian oil which had been sold to European interests. This was apparently the only oil sent abroad since nationalization.

Zion's Church Is Scene Of Frymoyer-DeKalb Rites

Baskets of mixed Summer flowers filled Zion's Reformed church recently for the wedding of Miss Evangeline Catherine DeKalb to Mr. George Frymoyer Jr., performed there by the pastor, the Rev. Howard A. Kosman.

A double ring ceremony united Miss DeKalb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DeKalb, 31 West Fifth street, and Mr. Frymoyer, son of Mr. George Frymoyer Sr., 616 Beech street, and the late Mrs. Frymoyer, in marriage.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose to wear a gown of white organdy over pale blue taffeta. The bodice was styled with a wide square neckline and short puffed sleeves, trimmed with pale blue ribbon which tied in at a bow at one shoulder.

The skirt was full and featured a band of ribbon, tied in a bow at one hip. With her gown Miss DeKalb wore a Summer straw cap securing a shoulder length veil, and carried a bouquet of lilies, white asters and white daisies.

Miss Joyce Eshbach, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and was attired in a ballerina gown of canary yellow nylon net, with a white Dutch cap and a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mr. John Frymoyer was best man for his brother, and the wedding was ushered by a brother, Mr. Joseph Frymoyer.

A corsage of white asters was worn by Mrs. DeKalb, who chose a navy blue Summer dress trimmed with white and worn with navy accessories.

FOLLOWING THE wedding a reception was held at Clover Leaf restaurant, after which the couple left on a short wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. For travel Mrs. Frymoyer chose a wheat-colored dress and wore a corsage of asters and babies' breath. Upon their return they will reside temporarily with the parents of the bride.

Mrs. Frymoyer attended Pottstown schools and is employed at the Vaughan Knitting mill. Mr. Frymoyer attended school in West Pottsgrove and is an employee of the Stanley G. Flagg company.

Convertible cars are nice, but remember, although they are cooling in the Summer time with the top down and the air blowing through, the sun is still beating on your head. Two hours of this could cause sun stroke.

Cotton Rules the Wardrobe

Cotton has a 24-hour job to do this season, and is doing it in fine fashion. Silks and synthetics are going quite well, of course, but it's cotton that rules the wardrobe from night attire to cool underthings, and for every type of dress and every type of occasion. The great designers have done wonderful things in cottons, as have the mills. Herbert Sondheim uses cotton printed in an exotic design in brown, yellow and black for a delightful bow and bolero topping the strapless dress and making for a costume that should receive plenty of wear and admiration.

Rainbow Class Picnic Keep Best Foot Forward
Is Attended by 75
At Sunnybrook Park With Proper Shoe Care

A total of 75 members of the Rainbow class of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church and their families attended the annual class family picnic yesterday at Sunnybrook park.

The afternoon's activities included a peanut scramble, table games and games for children attending. For these, prizes were awarded and in addition, each child attending received a lollipop.

Prize winners included William Dörner, Donald Floyd, Nancy Adams, Geraldine Pennington, James Stevens, LaRue Frymoyer, Ronald Rohland, Mrs. Peter Wilhelm, Mr. Nicholas Dörner and the Rev. Donald T. Dörner, pastor.

The picnic was in charge of Mrs. Floyd, Mrs. Ann Hasty, Mrs. Charles Rohland, Mrs. Charles Frymoyer, Mrs. Ada Hummel, Mrs. Byron Shaffer, Mrs. Henrietta Endy, Mrs. Daniel Kranch, who had charge of refreshments.

And Mrs. Fred Griesemer, Mrs. Endy and Mrs. Josephine Hoff, who prepared and conducted the games.

After the picnic the School of Methods club of the class held a brief business session, during which they discussed the distribution of funds received during the year.

Nothing prettier afoot than a pair of sparkling white shoes. But indeed to see that fine white calf, buck, kid or suede shoe looking yellow, if not positively grimy, is only too often the case.

White leather shoes are in a class by themselves, and they do take constant care, but it's worth it. In recent years white shoe leathers have been cleverly fortified against severe wear, and keeping pace are manufacturers of cleaners for these shoes.

White shoes should be cleaned regularly and not be permitted to accumulate dirt. A mild soiling is easily remedied by a single application of a reliable cleaner.

Prompt application of the cleaner will prevent the later need for more drastic treatment or excessive scouring.

WHERE WATER-type cleaners are used, it is especially important to put the shoes on shoe trees before beginning to clean them. The shoes will thus retain their shape and not shrink. If shoes are backless, then pack front quarter thoroughly with tissue paper, until firm.

Manufacturers' directions should be followed scrupulously in using any white cleaner. If the shoes which are badly soiled, use the suds of a mild soap and clean the shoes.

cleaner could be accomplished only by the use of glue, gelatin or other binding materials. Such materials form a film which dries and holds the white pigment firmly to the leather, something like a coat of varnish. Since leather must bend and flex with use, this film would be broken. When heavy films are cracked, the leather, too, for all its toughness, receives undue strain on the grain, and it, too, cracks. Therefore a slight degree of rub-off in a white cleaner is really an assurance that the cleaner is not gumming up the leather.

Manufacturers are turning out good and reliable white cleaners which not only do their cleaning job, but actually leave an oil content on the leather as a protection and lubrication.

If you have a freezer make up a big batch of spaghetti sauce and store it away. It's nice to serve for a spaghetti supper with a tossed salad and crusty hot garlic bread.

The following members will serve on the committees appearing before their names:

Social: Mrs. Rose Orrs, chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Sassaman, co-chairman; Mrs. Lulu Bohn, Mrs. Mary Dilliplane, Mrs. Catherine Angstadt, Mrs. Ellen Snell, Mrs. Alice Stonesifer and Mrs. Mary Griesemer, aides.

INVESTIGATING: Mrs. Florence Whittacre and Mrs. Fanny Obermeyer; auditing: Mrs. Betty Wanner; membership: Mrs. Estella Spielman; ways and means: Mrs. Bohn, Mrs. Valda Harriman, Mrs. Sassaman, Mrs. Whittacre, Mrs. Marge Miller, Mrs. Snell, Mrs. Dorothy Beck, and Mrs. Aretta Shirely.

Sick and visiting: Mrs. Ann Scheetz, Mrs. Griesemer and Mrs. Mayberry; publicity: Mrs. Griesemer.

The pig-in-the-box was donated by Mrs. Wanner and won by Mrs. Orrs.

It was announced that a covered dish social will be held for all members and their families in the back yard of the Eagles home, 636 High street, on July 9.

The Empire influence is pre-dominant in this vacation cocktail dress designed by Phillip Hulitar of pure silk taffeta organdy shantung. The cool, whimsical leaf and floral motif in royal blue is delicately etched on a white ground. Soft bosom folds are the focal point of the snugly fitted bodice. Shoulder folds form the stand-away collar that outlines the off the shoulder décolletage. The perky flared skirt is underlined with its own attached petticoat ruffled in net that peeks out at the hemline.

Diced cantaloupe tastes good in a lime-flavored gelatin dessert.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Alienated From Son

Dear Miss Fairfax: I have a friend who has been a mother to two sons. She is a very good mother and may not graciously and hospitably. After live too long, and her condition is all, these are very minor things, aggravated by the unaffection and the wise person gives in on of the wife of one son who has minor points for the greater good. been married over two years. This You have far more to gain by girl refuses to bother with her being warm and friendly with your mother-in-law, although before she husband's people than you have to married the son she was constantly lose by not following the book. at this woman's house, even eating most of her meals there. Now, neither of them ever stops in to see her, though they live in the same town.

My friend never liked the girl very much, but since she couldn't cap, 3-month-old twin daughters, let me tell you what she did. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lightcap, letting himself in for, she tried Parkersford RD 1, were dedicated to make the best of the situation recently in services in the Menno- and was always friendly to the girl, wife Brethren in Christ church of Spring City.

My friend is heartbroken about Spring City. The Rev. Paul E. Baer, pastor, girl over. She has even said she officiated at the service, for which was sorry about having tried to influence her son against marrying her, but the girl is so bitter against her she won't soften a bit. Please tell me what my friend could do.

—Maggie.

Dear Maggie: It is most unfortunate, of course, that there should be hard feelings between your friend and her daughter-in-law. At the same time, even though one may believe the girl should be willing to forgive and forget, it must be admitted that her bitterness is only human. It is pretty hard for a young girl to feel very friendly toward an older woman who, she knows, tried to influence her son against her.

I think about the only thing this mother-in-law can do now is to accept the fact that she has a large measure of responsibility for the situation, and to make up her mind that she will continue to be as friendly as she can with the girl in the hope that eventually the matter may straighten out. It seems to me, too, that her son should try to co-operate with her in bringing his wife around. Perhaps, since you are apparently a close friend of the family, you might some time have an opportunity to talk with the son in a diplomatic way about this, and perhaps, also, you could, by showing friendliness to the girl herself, help her feel more kindly toward her husband's mother.

Heart, Not Etiquette Book, Is Best Guide

Dear Miss Fairfax: I'm a bride of six months, and as yet my in-laws have not been to my home to see me, although many of my friends have come.

My husband's people maintain that I should extend an invitation to them before they will come. I feel they should come without such an invitation.

Then I have another question. I always thought newlyweds were invited out to dinners for at least a year but, again according to my in-laws, my husband's people think I should have a dinner for them here at my home.

I want to do the right thing so please set me straight.

P. P.

Personally, my feeling is that it is far more important to maintain peace and harmony in a family than to stick by what the etiquette books say. Therefore, I think "the right thing" for you to do would be to fall in with your in-laws' wishes, rather than to hold out for strip of paper, and hold the tack your own ideas of what should be in place with the paper.

Just what to wear with an airy, diaphanous dress often is a question. Well, it shouldn't be one of those big-floppy, flower-laden jobs, unless a sweet, girlish effect is desired, nor should it be a hat of the simple tailored variety. Just perfect would be this handsome little sailor of delicate fabric and flowery trim, yet done on restrained lines. For it, Harrison uses white organdie with a cluster of rhinestone-pink snowball blossoms in front of the pink velvet crown band, and a misting of frothy pink net veiling.

Ounce of Prevention Will Keep Hair Pretty Under Summer Sun

This is the season for fun in the sun. If you are mindful of warnings against good-looks have, you use your suntan oil diligently when breasting the waves or loitering on the beach, but do you realize that old Sol is no friend to your hair? It can get sunburned, too, and the result will not be joyful but may make you panicky, as your locks will be streaked with various hues quite different from the natural tint.

To avoid this condition, use protective measures. Wear some kind of head covering when swimming, sun-bathing or golfing. This rule applies to motor trips as well because wind whipping through your brain wool will do nothing to preserve natural softness and manageability.

TAKE TIME out from your outdoor activities to give scalp and hair an oil treatment. Do that find that corn pudding often fills before each shampoo. You can the bill. It tastes good with so use olive or mineral oil, applying many meats — baked ham, cold it along partings with a medicine tongue or corned beef, chicken and dropper. Beauty shops have been turkey.

Adviser Says Formosa Vital to U. S. Security

TAIPEH, Formosa, June 26 (AP)—The top U. S. military adviser on Formosa said today this island's defense is vital to U. S. security and called for more planes and guns quickly for the Chinese Nationalists.

"This is a very important spot in the defense of our own country," Maj. Gen. William C. Chase said in an interview.

The head of the U. S. military assistance advisory group in Formosa said today the Nationalist soldiers were declared: "We need planes and we need hardware (guns) and the sooner the quicker."

Chase said the Nationalists had plenty of American-trained pilots for the planes the United States would send.

Monkey Drives Car, Hits Viaduct, Is Locked Up

JOLIET, Ill., June 26 (AP)—To escape the heat, George Ellett, 25, took his 1-year-old monkey, Sam, for an automobile ride early today. George and Sam were cruising down a street when Sam decided to drive. The monkey leaped onto the wheel and began jumping up and down. He managed to steer the car into the center pier of a railroad viaduct.

The police came. They said the head of the U. S. military assistance advisory group in Formosa said today the Nationalist soldiers were declared: "We need planes and we need hardware (guns) and the sooner the quicker."

Chase said the Nationalists had plenty of American-trained pilots for the planes the United States would send.

Philippines Volcano Growing Up

A dense cloud of steam pours from the main crater of Didicas, a newly risen volcano 34 miles north of Luzon island in the Philippines. When discovered by the skipper of the freighter Brightstar the past March 16, the volcanic island was five acres in size. Since then Didicas has grown to 600 acres. A wing tip of U. S. Navy amphibian, from which this picture was made, shows at right.

Gen. Ike Lashes Administration For Complacency, Negligence

DENVER, June 26 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower lashed the big government. But then he added: "Along with these developments there have been great human gains. Those we must preserve. We are not going to turn back the clock. We are not going to throw out the works—though we do aim to give them a good cleaning."

The general charged the Government had become infected with the poisons of corruption and he also blamed "misplaced trust in Godless dictatorship" for the Korean War, the loss of China to Communism, and for most of Europe's ills.

A throng of some 11,000 in Denver's coliseum gave the general a roaring welcome before the speech, which had been billed as a look at Eisenhower's view on domestic politics.

But instead of discussing domestic policy, Eisenhower shifted to an appeal for the support of American youth in the presidential campaign—and coupled it with an attack on the Administration.

WITH THIS speech, Eisenhower pitched his campaign on two major premises: 1. The issue of war—or peace—in foreign policy, and 2. the issue of corruption in Government on the domestic front. The general's speech had a Hollywood touch to it. Just before the address, the lights dimmed. A spotlight picked out Eisenhower sitting in an open car which moved slowly around the coliseum.

Eisenhower said that young Americans of this generation find their country "fearful and indecisive" in the face of the threat of world Communism.

"The roots of this tragedy," he said, "are bound in the fact that we are too ready to trust the Godless dictatorship."

THEN HE said the "black monuments" of this misplaced trust were the loss of China, a divided Germany, "enslaved countries of the Baltic and the Balkans," and "a long and bloody struggle in Greece."

He went to say: "Today the consequences of that mis-placed trust come home to every one of us in the war in Korea. If we had been less trusting, if we had been less soft and weak—there would probably have been no war in Korea."

He said there was no reason for defeatism. He added, "Russia's Kremlin masters are not supermen. There is one language they understand without an interpreter—that is the language of strength—economic, military and spiritual strength."

Eisenhower said young America is sick at heart and cynical because of the dishonesty and corruption in high places.

HE SAID there had been corruption in government before—but never before has it reached such epidemic proportions.

Eisenhower said that in a little more than 12 months 177 persons in the Bureau of Internal Revenue had been fired for dishonesty and other improper activities.

He said that did not include others who were permitted to quit "because of ill-health."

Eisenhower said if the young people go to the polls in November "then we will be on our way to a good, old-fashioned clean-up and clean out."

He added: "We will restore the faith of our people in their government by restoring a government in which the people know they can have faith."

Eisenhower read from a prepared text. He had been expected to shoot off the cuff again as he did in Detroit—but he kept within the bounds of the text and departed from it only in minor instances.

ICE, Fur Controls Lifted on Hottest Day

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—On the hottest day of the year, the Government today took price controls off ice and milk coats.

"Pure coincidence that these orders were issued today," muttered a perspiring price official as the temperature climbed to 100. "We gear our decontrol actions to business barometers, not thermometers."

He quipped that ice is a "melting industry" in the face of more and more mechanical refrigeration. Consumption has declined more than 40 percent since 1946. He said decontrol of ice prices and elimination of burdensome record keeping is necessary to keep the industry going and assure sufficient ice supply.

The fur exemption order applies generally to "luxury" garments, which sell at retail for more than $400. They were decontrolled on the ground they do not play a significant part in the cost of living.

65-Year-Old Man Lands 31-lb. Carp

When a 65-year-old man who has been fishing nearly all his life lands a 31-pound carp he usually feels he has reached the zenith of his career as an angler.

But not so with Howard Christman, operator of a grocery store at 14 South Keim street.

Christman proudly displayed the fisherman's dream which measured 37 inches long and 27 inches at its girth in a refrigerator case in his store yesterday.

TWO TEACHERS RESIGNS POSTS

West Pottsgrove Board
Replaces One Instructor.
Awards Bid at Meeting

West Pottsgrove school board accepted resignations of two teachers and replaced one of the instructors at a lengthy and uncomfortable June meeting last night in the township school.

The shirt-sleeved directors accepted the resignations of Donald R. Strausburger, high school English teacher and librarian, and Doris A. Graver, high school home economics instructor.

No reason was given for Strausburger's resignation, but Miss Graver said she had obtained a position teaching in the high school at Parkland, Lehigh county, her home town. Both teachers had been employed one year by West Pottsgrove.

Ralph S. Gruber, *of East Greenville, was appointed to replace Strausburger. Gruber is a 1946 graduate of Lehigh university who received his master's degree three years later.

HE TAUGHT at Lehigh from 1949 to 1951, then taught at Cedar Crest college, Allentown, the past year. Supervising Principal James T. Jones is interviewing prospective candidates for Miss Graver's position.

Mrs. Celia Haines, an elementary school teacher in the district, was reappointed school census enumerator and the 184-day school calendar for next year was approved. Jones said it is similar to that of previous years. He added that teachers will report back to school next Sept. 2 and the pupils Sept. 3. School will close June 5, 1953.

The board awarded the Harry A. Keene Estate, Pottstown, a contract for furnishing general and art supplies for next year on its low bid of $1050. The only other bid was that of $1063 from L. B. Herr and son, Lancaster.

Reappointed by the board to their respective posts were: Jessie Rosenberry, faculty athletics manager; Charles Kazmerovitz, head football coach; William Keys, assistant football coach and head basketball coach; Robert Bryan, basketball coach; and Mrs. Laura Keller, girls hockey, basketball and softball coach.

Collegeville-Trappe Joint Board Elects 2 School Teachers

Two school teachers were elected last night by Collegeville-Trappe joint school board.

Ewardine E. Tyson, of Phoenixville, was named English teacher at the high school and Louis R. Cascano, of Clifton Heights, was named teacher of the fourth grade at the Collegeville school.

Miss Tyson will replace Mrs. Marguerite Miller, who substituted as teacher of English in the high school since this past February.

She formerly taught in Phoenixville and this past year was a member of the faculty at Southern High school, Lothian, Md.

MISS CASCANO, a member of the 1952 class at West Chester State Teachers' college, will replace Mary Lu Damron, who resigned to marry.

Fuel oil bids were awarded to William A. Boalton, Chestnut and Evans streets, and Walter F. Schwab, North Manatoway and Glasgow streets.

School supply bids went to the estate of Harry A. Keene, Pottstown, the Lumber Hardware corporation, Asheville, Tenn., and Zimmerman Paper and Supply company, Norristown.

The property committee was directed to advertise for bids for chairs, desks and shades for the recently-completed addition to the high school building.

Also, the committee was authorized to purchase a dish washer for the school cafeteria.

AT A MEETING of the Collegeville board after the joint board session the financial report showed receipts $292, expenditures, $3146. The cash balance in the sinking fund was reported at $3528.

Tax collector Robert K. Moyer made his final report for the fiscal year.

AID TO ALUMINUM MAKING

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The government announced today it has signed a contract with the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing company, Philadelphia, which it said will result in doubling the amount of cryolite available for the aluminum industry during the next 12 months.

CHRISTMAN SAID he sat on the dock in the hot sun at about 7.30 o'clock in the morning, Wednesday, and watched his two companions, Charles Diener, 545 Lincoln avenue, and Harry Taylor, 1135 High street, reel in carp weighing from 10 to 18 pounds.

Even Taylor's 9-year-old son Lane was pulling in fish — he landed eight catfish before Christman got a bite.

Finally at 3.30 p. m., Christman's flour-and-corn meal baited hook found a good firm spot in the jaws of the huge carp.

Christman craftily reeled in and let out line, wearing the fish out.

In a half hour the carp had lost all of its fight.

CHRISTMAN'S companions aided him with nets in getting the fish up the dock.

By that time the party felt that it was time to call it a day and they stowed their fish in the trunk of their car, wrapping them in wet blankets.

Christman had so much fish he didn't know what to do with it so he put it on display in his grocery store.

Yesterday his store looked like a cashier's booth during the rush hour in a New York subway as people flocked in to see the 31-pounder.

Unfortunately, the fish took up too much room in the freezer, so Christman gave the carp away to friends when he closed last night; it will be cut up and frozen.

Somebody said that he should have mounted the fish because who would ever believe he had caught a 31-pound, 31-inch carp.

Old Trappe Church To Celebrate 222d Anniversary Sunday

Members of the Augustus Lutheran church, Trappe, will celebrate the anniversaries of both the church and the congregation with two services Sunday.

A morning service, with the sermon by the Rev. W. Zimmerman, pastor, will commemorate the 222d anniversary of the congregation. In the afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Earl S. Erb, secretary of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, will be guest speaker at a service which will mark the 200th year of existence of the old church.

Assisting in both services will be the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, pastor of the New Hanover Lutheran church. The church choir, under the direction of Dr. William F. Philip and the organist, Mrs. Pauline Bender will provide special music for both services.

ORIGINALLY served by itinerant ministers, the congregation began building the church in March of 1743, soon after the arrival of the Rev. Henry Melchior Muhlenberg, first regularly-called Lutheran pastor to the United States.

The church derived its name from that of Herman Augustus Francke, founder of the Halle institutions, whose son was instrumental in persuading Muhlenberg to accept the call of the three United Congregations in America.

Big Carp Is Landed On 3 Corn Kernels By Fisherwoman

Many a male fisherman has gone out to do some angling loaded down with expensive equipment and intricate lures only to return empty-handed.

But it takes a woman, Mrs. Ann Morgan, 831 South street, to catch a 30-inch carp with nothing more than three kernels of corn for bait.

Mrs. Morgan was out with her husband Edmund and her sister-in-law Marian Morgan on an evening's fishing expedition to French creek Wednesday when the whopper took her bait.

"It just about pulled me into the water," Mrs. Morgan related the incident enthusiastically. "But I was so excited that I even forgot the scare."

EVEN WITH the assistance of her husband, it took them both over 45 minutes to land the 12-pound monster.

When asked what she was going to do with it, Mrs. Morgan happily announced that a big baked fish dinner is being planned for Saturday night.

HALLMAN, REIDENOUER, NORE LEAD 9-1 WIN OVER FORDERS

By JOE MUCH

The Legion Juniors began to look like a leading challenger for their own Montco league championship again last night when they bowled over Roversford, 9-1, on the RHS field.

Dave Reidenouer, pacing himself like a moundside veteran, doled out five hits in gaining his third win in four decisions. It was the Juniors' fourth loop triumph against a lone reversal at the hands of unbeaten Roversford.

Ruck Rhoads' boys grouped three of their hits for a five-run second inning and had four more in the order, came back strong in a four-run fourth to win in a with a single and triple that counted for three runs.

Five of Pottstown's eight hits were struck off starter Frank Walters, who had hurled a no-hitter against Norristown his last time out.

Walters lasted through the big second, but was hoisted when the locals began cuffing him around in the fourth. Ray Slawicki finished up handily, surrendering but three hits in four innings.

Cardinalettes Trim Chicks

The Cardinalettes came from behind three times last night to trim the Baer Park Chicks of Reading, 6-5, in a tense extra-inning duel at Boden field.

It was a sweet victory for the Cards, who had dropped two previous decisions to their Reading tormentors earlier in the year.

Victory came when the Cards pushed over a pair of runs in the ninth inning to erase a temporary 5-4 lead taken by the visitors in the top of the inning.

The Chicks scored three times in the first inning and once in the fifth to lead, 4-3, going into the last inning. But the Cards stayed off a regulation defeat with a singleton and set the stage for their stunning triumph.

Betty Smith socked a double and triple to figure in two of the Cardinalette rallies, while Betty Daily homered for another run.

The pitching win went to Diz Leinbach, who scattered three Chicks hits and struck out five.

FLAGGMEN BELT 13 HITS, GET FOURTH CITY-INDUSTRIAL WIN

By GARY TROLLINGER

Flaggs' Billy Christian had to wait over a month, but he finally got his win over gentle Jacobs last night at Franklin field as the Flaggs mopped them up, 14-2, in City-Industrial league play.

The first time the two teams met during the loop's first round of play, Christian and Jacobs' Bob Kasper hooked up in a 3-3 tie that was settled at a later date. But Christian wasn't in on it, and he hadn't made a starting appearance since.

Last night the curveballing Berks county right-hander was in full control for the five frames he worked. He scattered four hits, one of them Bill Binecz's homer for the Jaks.

There really wasn't any necessity for him to stick around for the last two frames as his mates had piled up their 14 runs, and Flagg manager Al Ramsdell wanted to get a look at his new southpaw, Gabelsville's Laverne (Smookey) Gresh.

Gresh was also impressive, striking out the side in both frames he toiled, but being nicked for the Jaks' second run on a walk-and-hit batsman and Earl Strom's double.

Strom, who took a wobbly journey on the hill for an inning, and

Twinbill on Tap In City League

UAW and Flagg square off at Memorial park in the added part of a City-Industrial league twinbill tonight. St. Johns and Stowe vie in the regularly scheduled attraction at Franklin field. Both tilts are for 6 p.m.

The Workers and Flaggs are tied with identical 4-2 logs after last night's 14-2 Flagg win over Jacobs. Both are eyeing that third spot behind the Elks (8-0) and Stowe (5-2).

Should St. Johns (1-5) pull the unexpected and unveil an upset victory, the victor of the UAW-Flagg tilt would be in second spot, three games behind the pacesetter, Montgomerys.

Gabes Blanked By Pikes, 3-0

Righthander Earl Brockbrill limited St. Gabriels to four hits last night as he pitched Pike land to a 3-0 French Creek Valley league victory at Kimberton.

Victory was achieved after 14 innings of play. The two teams tugged to a 4-4 standstill the night before at Stowe.

Brockbrill kept the Gabes away from the plate in a pitching duel with Mike Zenski for three innings. Then his mates provided him with a run on a walk to Duke Ponis. Tom Callahan's double and a groundout in the fourth.

The Pikes got two more and chased Zenski when Pat Gazzilli and Bruce Lane singled ahead of a two-run error in the sixth. Bill Jotjes came on to pitch hitless ball for the Gabes the rest of the way.

Pottstown Picks Its Star Teams

Except for a few ballots that are still in the mails, the Pottstown area has completed its voting in the annual National-American League All-Star Game poll.

Two of the ballots submitted to the Mercury are going to bring rich rewards to their authors.

The ballot that most nearly area in general would like to see matches the starting lineups for rival league teams in the classic July 8 at Shibe Park, Philadelphia. It is worth two all-expense trips to any A's or Phils game in the same stadium. Next best ballot draws two tickets to any A's or Phils home game.

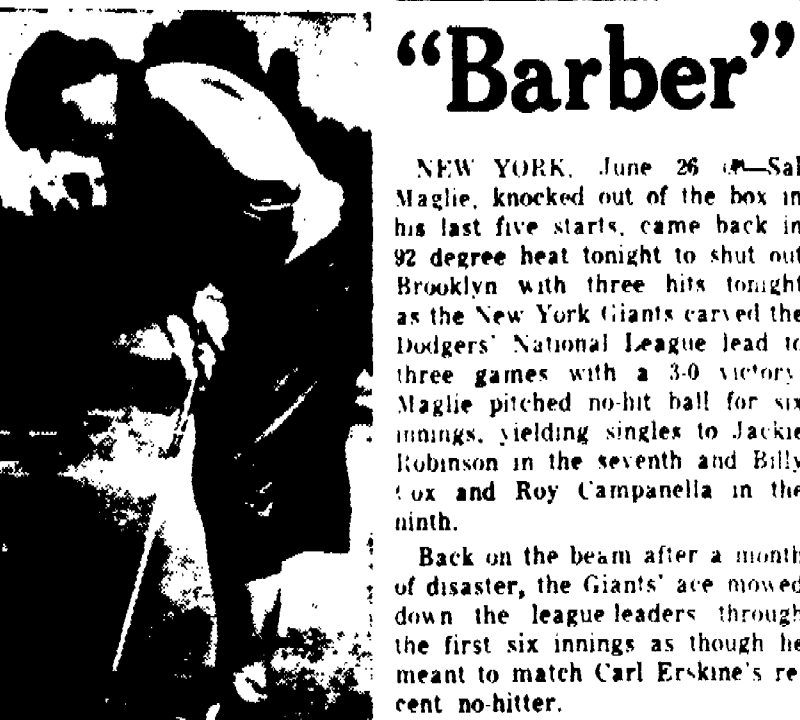

Batting orders will not matter, but it will be necessary that voters who figure in the prizes have the right players in the right positions. Winners will be announced shortly after the contest.

“Barber” Clips Brooks, 3-0

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Sal up a clean single to Cox opening ground out to Whitey Lockman. Maglie, knocked out of the box in the ninth. But Robinson grounded his last five starts, came back into a fast double play. Then Cam-92 degree heat tonight to shut out panella singled to center for the Brooklyn with three hits tonight third hit. While Roy took second as the New York Giants carved the base unopposed, Maglie worked on Dodgers' National League lead to George Shuba and made him three games with a 3-0 victory.

Maglie pitched no-hit ball for six innings, yielding singles to Jackie Robinson in the seventh and Billy Cox and Roy Campanella in the ninth.

Back on the beam after a month of disaster, the Giants' ace mowed down the league leaders through Wertz' three-run homer in the first of the first six innings as though he meant to match Carl Erskine's recent no-hitter.

Robinson led off the seventh with a single through the box, a clean shot to the shortstop side of second base, for the first hit.

The 35-year-old "barber," sweating freely in the sticky night, gave

Levengood Sets Record in 49-1 Knee-Hi Victory

Powerful Levengood rolled to an all-time Knee-Hi league high last night in humiliating Trinity, 49-1, at the Far fields, while the Orioles blanked the Optimists, 12-0, in 14-round technical knockout win.

Levengood scored 16 runs in the third inning for his biggest burst of an abbreviated five-inning game. The winners belted 34 hits, including six each by pitcher Turner and Stranick and had ten doubles, two triples and two homers among them.

Trinity
Levengood 49, 34 hits, 16 runs, 10 doubles, 2 triples, 2 homers.

Optimists
Orioles 12, 10 hits, 6 runs, 3 doubles, 1 triple, 1 homer.

Patty Berg Nabs Lead In National Open Golf

PHILADELPHIA, June 26 (AP)—Chunky Patty Berg, winner of 57 major women's golf tournaments in her 17-year-links career, took a one-stroke lead over the field today in the opening round of the seventh annual National Women's Open championship with the help of ice cubes, salt tablets and four birdies on the back nine holes.

Red-haired Patty, from St. Andrews, Ill., fashioned a par 69 over the scorched Bala Country club course today despite oppressive heat that must have soared over 100 degrees in the sun. She led the charge of professional stars who completed the first round of the four-day, 72-hole test, holding eleven of the first 15 positions.

Close on Miss Berg's heels in the field of 45, is little Louise Suggs, another veteran of the pro ranks, whose straight hitting and sure putting proved tailor-made for the narrow fairways and small greens on the 5460-yard Bala course. The Carrollton, Ga., star, 1949 winner of this tournament, carded a 34-36-70, one over regulation figures.

Betty Jameson, pro from San Antonio, Tex., sweltered to a 36-36-71, while defending champion Betsy Rawls, of Austin, Tex., is seeking her fourth straight major victory, turned in a 33-39-72. Two amateurs—both Philadelphia area girls—carded 72's. Mrs. Dorothy Germain Porter, 1949 National Amateur queen, and Helen Sigel, onetime Western Amateur champion, proved, as expected, a pair of real threats to the play-for-pay women. Mrs. Porter had a 34-38 and Miss Sigel a pair of 36's.

Bonnie Randolph, amateur from Columbus, O., and Betty Mackinnon, Dallas, Tex., pro, sweated to 74's, while Marilyn Smith, Wichita, Kan.; Betty Bush, Hammond, Ind.; Alice Bauer, Sarasota, Fla.; and Betty Dodd, San Antonio, all pros, came up with identical 76 points. Peggy Kirk, Ponte Verda, Fla., pro with a 77, and Dorothy Lowenstein, White Plains, N. Y., amateur with a 78, completed the first 15.

Miss Berg, who won the first Women's Open tourney at Spokane, Wash., in 1946, was two over par going out but she really went to town on the back nine, carding four birdies to complete her 69, which tied the National Open one-round record established by Miss Suggs in 1949.

reach base in the sixth and Strouse came back in.

Flagg had put itself safely out of range with an opening inning single run, five in the third, and two more in the fifth.

In the third, it was a walk, Lou Millard's single and a three-base error by leftfielder Jack Delloplaine, a double by Hen Johnson, an error by Strom, Mull's single and a ground out by Joe Smith that produced the five runners.

Eleven flagg batted in the 6th, for six runs that made a travesty of the game.

Strom passed Johnson, Harvey Sheetz, and Mull after giving up a single to force in a run in the onetime Western Amateur champion. Strouse replaced him there and walked Duke Herman and Dick Edwards to force in two more, both charged to Strom.

Jilted Light Heavyweight Archie Moore Tops Henry

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—during the 10 rounds before 7000 fans in Memorial stadium.

Instead, it was the 35-year-old Moore, who shot the hard ones all the way while Henry had to take oxygen from a tank in the 91-degree heat.

Henry's nose bled from the second round on and it stained Moore's white trunks pink. It was the second loss by Henry to a light heavyweight. Harold Johnson, of Philadelphia delivered the other setback earlier this year. Tonight's setback was only the fourth loss suffered by the Californian.

Referee Joe Louis, the former heavyweight champ, scored it 7-2-1 for Moore. Judge Eddie Leonard had it 8-1-1 for Moore, the same as the Associated Press and judge Ben Goldstein saw it 9-1 for Archie.

Per Capita Taxes Should Be Equalized, Too

Equalize All Taxes

To the Editor: That was a good suggestion of Mr. (Earl R.) Strange the other night, to equalize per capita tax assessments as well as property assessments.

I work in a plant for a living and I pay personal tax based on a rating of $125, whatever that means.

Yet, right down the street, a doctor I know makes many thousands of dollars a year more than I do, and he pays personal tax on a basis of $150.

I ask you now, is that fair?

Let's hope council takes up Mr. Strange's suggestion and does something about it. The little fellow needs help, too.

Pottstown

TAX-WEARY

It could not allow the motorists ahead of him "to look at the scenery?"

I know it is popular to sneer at anyone these days who wants to enjoy his or her motor trip by looking at the scenery.

Why don't the speed kings who think the highways were made especially for them to hit 60 and 70 miles an hour hire a race track and go lickety-split round and round?

They don't pay attention to anything but their moronic desire for speed and more speed.

It is sad to state that many persons are now commuting to morgues and hospitals.

Just wait until July the Fourth.

There will be hundreds killed and thousands injured.

Those drivers had not been looking at the scenery while driving. Their foot had been pressed down on the accelerator of the cars.

Too bad there are not more motorists looking at scenic beauties.

Pottstown RD 2 SAMUEL B. YOST

I couldn't believe it, so I went and read it myself, and I said, Hallelujah, we're finally going to have something done.

I don't know how many years we've put up with holes in the street, high curbs, crumbling sidewalks and accidents galore, while council fiddled around and talked about our problem.

Maybe it won't be until next year, but at least it gives us something to look forward to to know that something is to be done.

Reynolds avenue JOYFUL

Leave the Lights Alone

To the Editor: Some folks are born tinkers. Such are the persons responsible for Pottstown's irregular traffic lights.

No matter where you go you'll find some order of system to the setting of traffic lights. But not in Pottstown. Here some screwball is always tinkering.

A man couldn't hit the lights along High street in a kiddy car at 3 a. m. during a raging storm. Our light timing is that ridiculous.

Why don't the person or persons in charge of lights do something to change the lights—something to alleviate this traffic snarling hazard.

Cut Down Speeding

To the Editor: After reading the sad letter written by "Commuter" ("Slowness is Dangerous," Readers Say, June 24) to The Mercury in which he bewails the fact that he was unable to ride at his usual rapid rate of speed over a winding, hilly, two-lane dirt road in Warwick township, Chester county, because some slowpoke motored along at 20 miles an hour, I read that seven persons were killed and 20 injured, some of them critically in crashes in this section caused by speeding drivers.

Brannan's Farm Policies Help Reap Party Votes

WASHINGTON, June 26—Farmers Brannan is up to his old tricks again!

The bald-headed Denver lawyer, who doubles as the most politically astute secretary of agriculture in history, is reaping rural votes for the Democrats with the same slick schemes that transformed an apparent Republican victory into a Truman triumph in 1948.

Should his stratagem succeed, thousands of normally Republican ruralites in up-State New York may vote for the Brannan candidate instead of their party's offering, whether it be Ike or Bob. Their support may insure that New York's important 47 electoral ballots go to the Democratic nominee, in view of the party's strength below The Bronx.

The GOP makes a mistake if it counts the Empire State as a sure thing, even though Eisenhower and Taft have strong backers there. Dewey would have lost it in 1948 save for the normally Democratic votes cast for Henry A. Wallace to the total of 500,000.

The intriguing aspect of the latest Brannan conspiracy, as has been true of so many recent political uses and abuses of presidential power, is that it has economic plausibility. It can be and has been advanced as a step toward sound marketing of a major crop, with resultant gains to producers and consumers.

Many other Truman actions in this election year, such as seizure of the steel plants, can be clothed with a character of public need, although they are actually designed to curry favor with special voting interests.

But it seems strange that Brannan delayed any action on the pending problem until only a few months before the November balloting. From a partisan standpoint, his timing has been perfect.

HOLLYWOOD, June 26—Tony Curtis is due for peace talks tomorrow with his Universal studio bosses. (Fun's fun—but his current suspension has been costing him $650 per week.)

Must say—Tony has a "case." He went on tour recently to plug "No Room for the Groom" (along with Piper Laurie) while he was on layoff—and paid his own expenses. That sounds pretty chintzy on the studio's part.

Curtis says his "feud" with Piper is nothing personal, but he wants no more movies with her. Because every time they team, most of the publicity is slanted her way; including billing and a nice dressing room. He makes up in a glorified closet.

How's Your Mind?

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

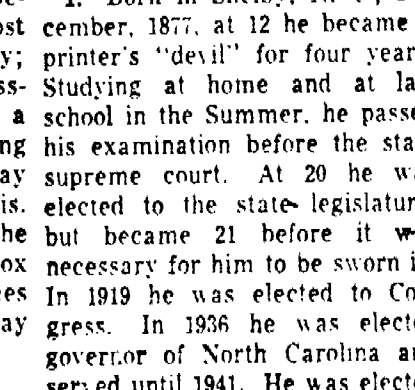

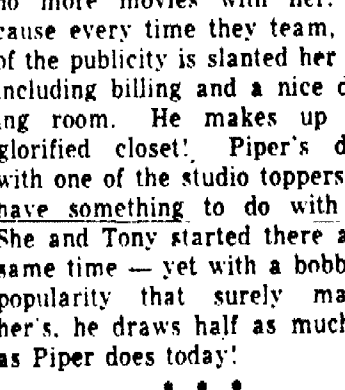

1. What famous hall do you associate with "Boss" William Tweed?

2. Who, in a storybook walked through a mirror?

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1. Born in Shelby, N. C., December, 1877, at 12 he became a printer's "devil" for four years. Studying at home and at law school in the Summer, he passed his examination before the state supreme court. At 20 he was elected to the state legislature, but became 21 before it was necessary for him to be sworn in. In 1919 he was elected to Congress. In 1936 he was elected governor of North Carolina and served until 1941. He was elected U. S. senator in 1944 and was re-elected in 1950. He is chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee. What is his name?

2. This radio actor was born in Chicago, Ill., attended Carnegie Tech, intending to become an engineer, but while there he turned to the drama school and became an actor. He acquired the necessary professional polish after graduation with several Pennsylvania stock companies, then headed for Broadway. He is playing "Dr. John Wayne" in the daytime drama, "Big Sister," and also the part of the sinister sounding host of "Inner Sanctum." Who is he? (Names at bottom of column)

Picture being made under the Walter Wanger aegis while the producer is doing his time at the County Honor Farm. Sterling Hayden has started starring in "Kansas Pacific" at Allied Artists. And this Cinecolor job comes out as a Wanger production too.

Local Girl Breaks Bones... Katch to Marry?

★ INNOCENT BYSTANDER—Pottstown friends of Mrs. A. S. Mierop, the former Claire Bernard, will be grieved to hear of a serious accident she suffered in Santa Monica, Calif., where she now resides. Mrs. Mierop, according to news received by Mrs. Bruce Davies, her successor in North Hanover street's Claire Hat Shoppe, was taking her pet cocker spaniel for a walk when it was attacked by a vicious chow. In the melee, Mrs. Mierop was spun around and dashed to the ground. She broke her right hip and right shoulder, now is confined to a hospital. She's in traction, will be immobilized for six weeks. The former Miss Bernard left Pottstown seven years ago, following her marriage to "Gus" Mierop, a former local insurance man. Friends may cheer her at Room 408, St. John's hospital, 22nd st. and Santa Monica boulevard, Santa Monica, Calif.

POTTSTOWN VETERANS will recall a June 26 back in 1917. That was when the first American troops landed in France to help win World War I (the war to end all wars!) First off the transport at St. Nazaire was Company K, 28th Infantry, First Division. Ask grandpop if he remembers... For cool riding, this column can imagine a lot of more frigid methods than that motorcycle a busom young lass drove around Pottstown yesterday afternoon. The heat from the broiling struts must have been almost unbearable.

★ MIDDLE AISLING IT—The ranks of Pottstown's most eligible bachelors is being broken by Johnny Katch, well known Doehlerite and now a Bowen real estate salesman (on the side). Katch, who has escaped matrimony for these many years, is keeping his impending marriage hush-hush, but it's a pretty well-founded rumor that he'll middle-aisle it this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Holy Trinity church. Katch is one of the well known holdouts who the past January told in a Mercury story what they feared about Leap Year. Now he's the first of those ten to break ranks. But he said six months ago: "With each successive Leap Year, a guy weakens a little bit. These days, with the high cost of living," he added, a guy can't even afford to get married, he can't even afford to stay single. If anybody knows any other way that's cheaper than staying single, I'd like to hear about it," he mused... Looks like he found the way.

HEAT WAVE—Alfred Haas, Pottstown electrical dealer, won a company citation the past Summer for excelling in the sale of air-conditioning units. This year's pair of heat waves set him off on a good start toward breaking his 1951 record. He was beating the mark day by day until whamo! his company advised him "no more air-conditioning units!" Seems the steel strike is getting in its ticks! Haas did perform a humanitarian service when he learned an invalid needed room conditioning aid. He fitted up a model to help the sick person over a humid hump.

★ SLOWED UP—Pottstown giggle water depots are noticing a decline in business, despite the heat wave. They attribute slow business to the steel strike. One think, say tavern proprietors, is an increase in $5 bills, neatly folded as if tucked away for rainy days. Some bartenders think the boys screeched the bills in their folds, but now have to take them out... What ever did become of Amelia Earhart Putnam? She disappeared over the Pacific ocean on an attempted round-the-world flight 15 years ago next month... GIVE AWAY DEPT.—Two springer spaniel and terrier mixed eight-week-old puppies, male. Mrs. Donald Hallman, Pottstown Landing, phone 561-R.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

SUNGLASSES are usually not dark enough to give adequate protection. Research has shown that the darker the glasses, the better they protect the eyes from the ill effects of sunlight.

It is said that if the eyes of a person wearing sunglasses can be seen by a person looking through the lenses, then the lenses are not dark enough.

If a person exposes himself to too much bright sunlight without the protection of dark glasses, the retina of the eye loses some of its sensitivity. This is the part of the eye that receives the light impulses, and therefore the sharpness of vision is impaired.

The effect is usually noticeable right after the eyes have been exposed too long. The person's adaptation to the dark may be slow for days or even weeks afterward, and may be an important cause of both industrial and automobile accidents.

According to the same researches, neither the ultra-violet nor infra-red rays from the sun are the cause of this type of blindness. Both light and dark glasses absorb these rays adequately. Too great amounts of visible solar radiation—light—are thus responsible for the damage to the eyesight.

Many times, after exposure to sunlight, vision is reduced by one-half its normal value, and even more. Thus, night driving, after a day at the beach without sunglasses, can be very dangerous. The loss is mainly in dark adaptation to vision, and night vision is extremely retarded.

It thus seems advisable to avoid excessive exposure of the eyes to sunlight, and to wear dark sunglasses to minimize the effects of solar radiation on the eyes.
